Dedication:

Somewhere Along the Way . . .

"Highway 57" came to an abrupt end for Judy Ann Gillis. Judy was killed in an automobile accident on November 21, 1955.

We, the Class of 1957, respectfully dedicate our book to Judy. Our journey was filled with her spirit, her happiness, and her ideals as we all began together; and now as we have almost reached the end of our highway, we are filled with wonderful memories of Judy. Memories that we shall take with us as we face the roadways of the future.

Yes, "Somewhere along the way," Judy Gillis was detoured from "Highway 57," but guided by the faith and understanding for which she is so often remembered, we are confident that Judy finishes the journey with us—on her own Highway of Gold.

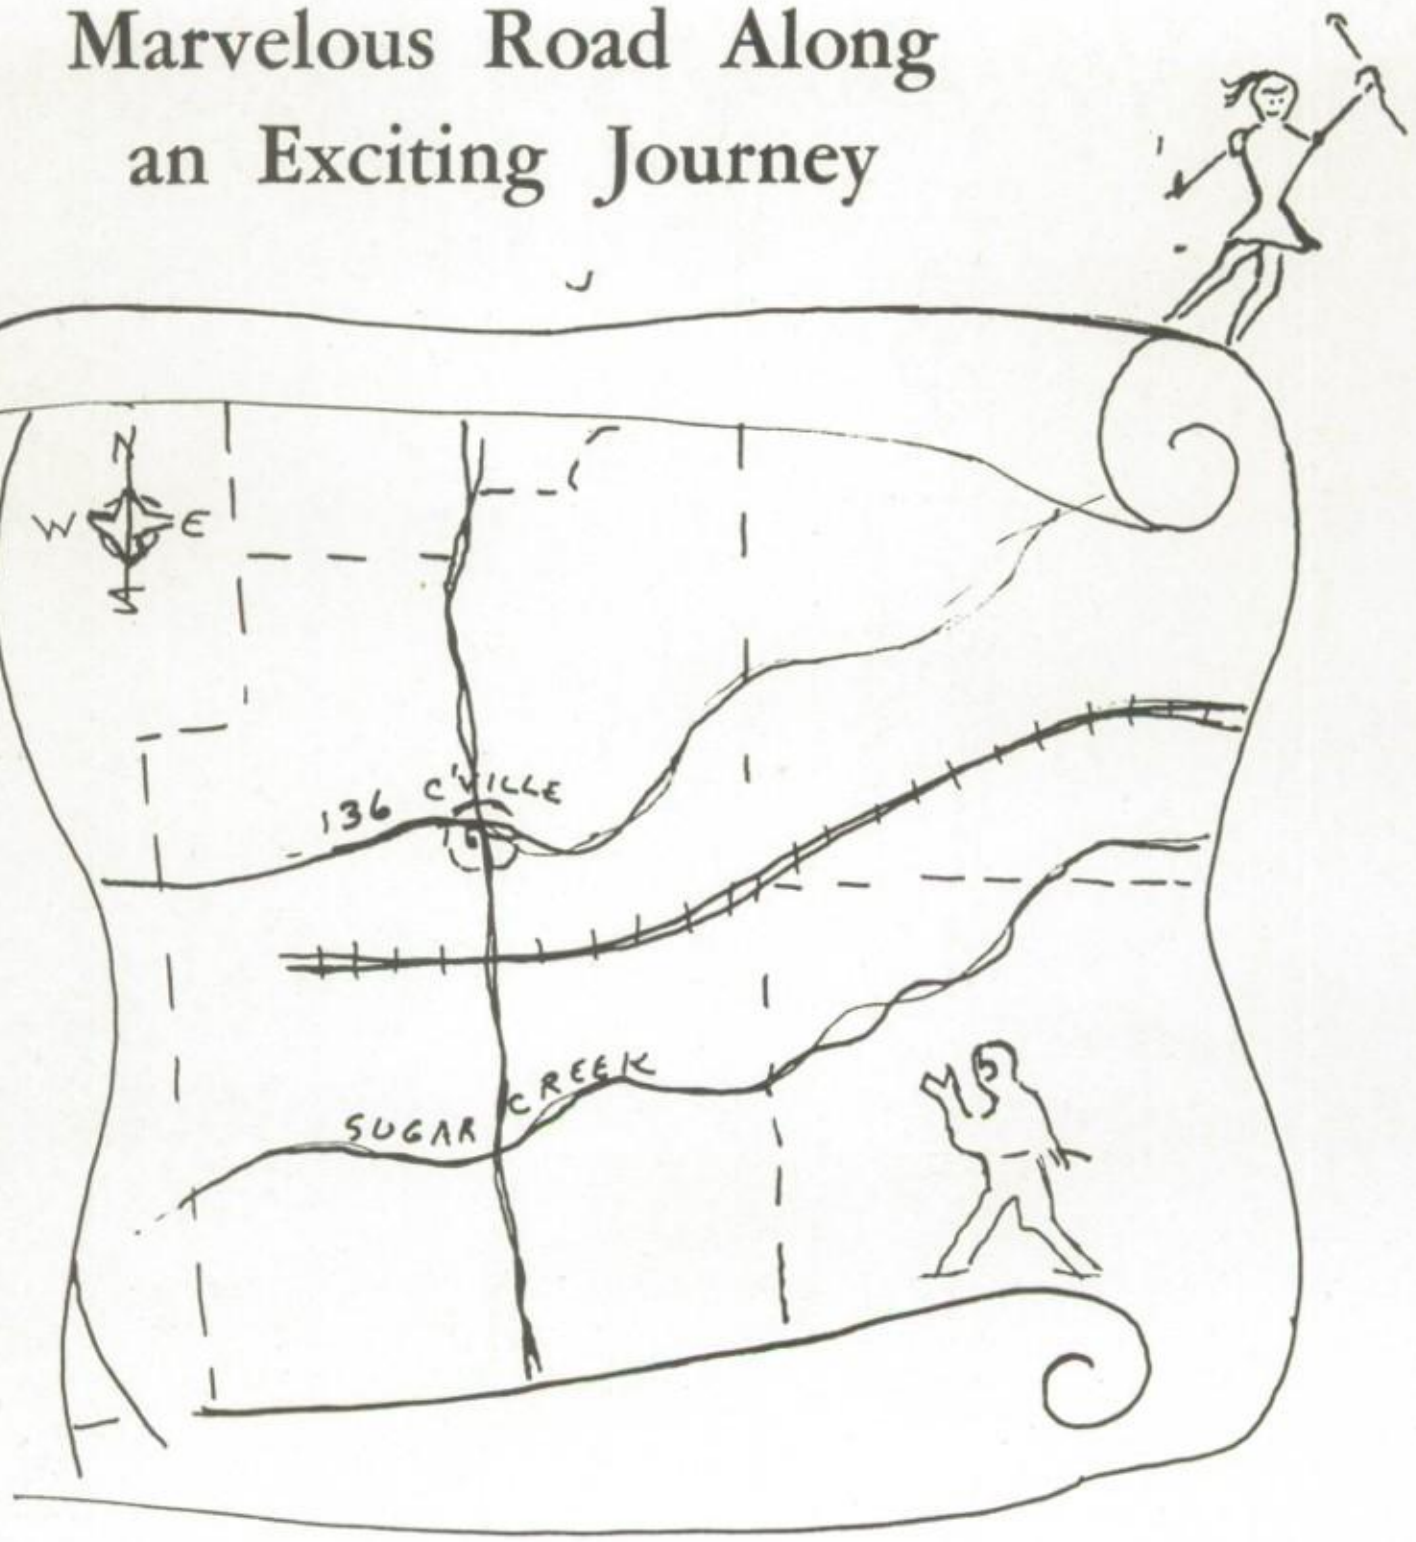
Our Highway is a Marvelous Road Along an Exciting Journey



High School years provide wonderful memories, in one way or another, for millions of people everywhere. As we entered Crawfordsville High School, and took our places, frightened and adventurous, in the traditional "7th Grade Halls," little did any of us realize the journey that lay ahead. Our journey has taken us many places, taught us many lessons and introduced us to many fine people. The dances, the Gin-Jer-Boo and the Ball games on Friday nights were milestones as we traveled. Soon, the Class of 1957 will leave the Highway that has become so much a part of our lives, and venture out to new horizons, but whatever the future may hold for us we are confident that our adventures along "Highway 57," will compose only the very finest of memories of Crawfordsville High School.

Detours

Our Highway had a great many detours, as we proceeded faster and faster along. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" seemed the watchword of the C.H.S. student body as we rushed eagerly to the Gin-Jer-Boo after the games, to the Rec on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, or to the Strand for the Saturday night "Blast." Mac's drug store adjacent to school was full to over-flowing at noon, after school, (and sometimes in between). Schultz's Book-store for Hi-Fi and Stecks, for the well dressed "Kat" were visited quite regularly as we speeded on down our Highway.

Student Council

The Student Council has many duties which must be performed each year. Early in the school year the council conducts the class elections for officers. The council sets the date and is in general charge of Homecoming. The organization also selects auditorium programs, arranges pep sessions, has charge of noon hour recreation, and the election of yell-leaders.

The council, a student governing body, is made up from student representatives from every class. The officers of the council for this year were David Allen, president; Mary Ruth David, vice-president; and Nancy Hudson, secretary.

Junior-Senior Advisory Boards

The Junior Advisory Board consisted of two representatives from each homeroom of the classes of 1957 and 1958. The Board made initial plans for all dances and functions sponsored by the junior and senior classes. The Homecoming dance and parade was made very successful through the planning of the class and Advisory Board. Class jewelry and sweaters were selected by the Board. They also worked out special money-making projects for the class, constituted daily living programs and planned the Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom.

SENIOR CLASS

The senior class started off the year as usual by taking first place in the float competition for the third consecutive year in the annual Homecoming parade. Seniors were also responsible for the organization of the parade.

Senior Daze was celebrated by all. It achieved its purpose of arousing more school spirit from the student body for the closing games of the basketball season.

As seniors we helped to guide the juniors and work together with them as we planned and carried out the Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom.

Throughout the year we worked and planned for the publication of the yearbook. The Senior Class Play, Arsenic and Old Lace, was a great success and well received by the audience.

Class sponsors for the year were: Mr. Crecelius and Mr. McCormick.

JUNIORS

Juniors took first place for the prettiest float in the annual Homecoming parade this year. December 8th was the presentation date for our class play, Yes and No. Also in December the class sponsored a dance, Evergreen Ecstasy, in the auditorium. As the school year came to a close the juniors were busy working with the seniors on plans for the Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom.

Sponsors for the class this year were: Mr. Tatlock and Mr. Grater.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore class sponsored the pep session for our annual Homecoming football game. We also gave two other pep sessions during the basketball season and held a dance, the Oriental Oomph.

Oratory

Since 1903, forensic contests have proved one of our most rewarding and outstanding activities. While comparatively few of our students participate, the contests are open to any able student who desires to add that extra polish to his regular classroom speaking. C.H.S. offers varied experiences in the following events: Voice of Democracy, Anna Wilson, American Legion, Rotary, Wabash, Purdue Radio Forum, and the Indiana Forensic League.

This work is directed by W. H. Grider.

Athenian

The task of the Athenian staff and its sponsor is to publish and finance the yearbook. The preparation of the Athenian required many hours of work.

The Athenian is a record of the school's activities for the year in the fields of music, drama, athletics, clubs, and other activities.

The editors for the year were Marcia Miller and Marcia McGlasson. The staff included Connie Wyatt, Phyllis Armstrong, and Pat McClure in the activities section. Jacque Gallear and Mary Ann Wells were the members of the music section. Sports were covered by Jay Farrar, Larry Fletcher, and Larry Shelton. Nancy Hudson and Carol Horner were in charge of the art and business sections.

Acknowledgement goes to the sponsor, Miss Gill, for keeping the material and assignments in order and helping the staff in many ways to produce the Athenian.

Jesus Christ, the son of God and the servant of man, was born one cold and lonely night in the city of Bethlehem. We now consider that day to be December 25.

February 12, is Abraham Lincoln's birthday. Every year the people of Merchants cash in by using Christ's birthday to boost their sales. In every advertisement on television there is a reference to Christmas. Slogans, such as: "Buy your Xmas present early!" "Show him how much you love him, buy him . . ." "Show Him that you love Him," by inviting Christ to His own birthday party this Christmas. Yes, put Christ back into Christmas in your heart and keep him there always, as the "Guest-of-Honor"!

These girls devoted a great deal of their time and energy toward making the cheering section a spirited and enthusiastic group. Many hours were put in with the Pep Block. They developed a card section and their performances at the various games were attractive and colorful.

The "B" team cheerleaders also did a fine job if the record of the "B" basketball squad is an indication of the pep and backing the fans showed at the games. The cheerleaders as pictured left to right were—Kathy McDonald, Sharon Wood, and Marlene Everson.

Although they are not pictured the cheerleaders for the Jr. High School should be mentioned. They were—7th Grade: Susan Dawson, Connie Hesser, Brenda Weliver. 8th Grade: Marsha Pinkstaff, Phyllis Fulford, Ruthanna Newnum. 9th Grade: Carol Parks, Judy Hesler.

COACHES

On the coaching staff this year Crawfordsville had six new men. Dick Baumgartner coached varsity basketball and assisted with track and varsity football. Mr. Baumgartner is a graduate of Indiana University. Joe Young, a graduate of Butler, took charge of the golf squad and "B" basketball team. Jerry Huntsman received his degree from Wabash College and coached the football team last fall. Keith Farrand, a Purdue graduate, coached wrestling. Tom Thompson also a Purdue man worked with the 7th graders during basketball season and in the spring turned his coaching efforts to the baseball field. Don Hamrick coached 8th grade basketball and reserve football. He is a graduate from Indiana State Teachers College.

John McCormick and Joe Hamrick were the only two veteran coaches. Mr. McCormick, an Indiana University graduate, coached the tennis team and assisted with varsity football. Joe Hamrick, another ISTC man, worked with the grade basketball team, reserve football and assisted with track.

Ode to My High School Years

by Marcia L. McGlasson

While in my senior year at last I see
Just what these hallowed halls will mean to us
Who trudged them day by day for four long years.
I see they mean not only empty halls,
But they recall the laughter and the gloom
Which come with play and work in every class.
The subjects which I once thought were so dull
Now prove to be worth all the strain and work.
I see that all my effort and my time
Weren't spent so poorly even so, and now
Beyond me lies the future and the goal
For which I've spent the past years working so.
As I look back to freshman days, amazed,
I see how trivial were my childish aims.
I cared not for the value of my books,
But rather loved to gossip with the girls.
The school was just a boring place to be—
Much better was excitement of the games;
Athletics and enthusiasm reigned:
Naught else was pondered long but laughing fun.
As William Shakespeare quoted in his play,
"Hast thou forgot all sense of place and duty?" [1]
And this I did, for these were freshman days.
Now as the next years quickly came and left,
I notice how my attitude did change:
Emotions faded to more common sense,
Just as the youth outgrows his childish ways.
In school, the teachers now became my friends
Instead of bitter personalities.
My books began to be more interesting,
As soon I saw how much there is to learn
Beyond the meager lessons up to now.
My mind began to change from thoughts of play
To future plans, decisive and so near.
Explore through books was now my chiefest aim.
In them I found the answers to my quests
And started standing on my own at last.
Now as I look toward graduating day,
I realize I owe much to my school—
For friends I've met and loved and studied with,
For teachers with enduring patience true,
For atmosphere of learning everywhere—
Impressions on my life which always say,
"Remember high school days—they were so great.
Now on in Life and use what you have gained."
